New Killer-The Demon (Or Bendy)

Bio: An inky killer, able to throw blobs of ink at victims to slow them down tremendously and set ink puddles to teleport from location to location with his power 'The Ink Demon'

His personal perks, 'The Creator Lied to us', 'Can't be erased', and 'The dark revival' help the demon delay the trial, and give him buffs when hooking survivors.

New power: The ink demon: After years of being trapped in that workshop, your bloodlust has increased, and your power has risen to its full power. The Demon starts the trial off with 5 blobs of ink, he can throw them at survivors, causing them to get the 'Hindered' status effect for 5 seconds, and they leave a trail of ink as well, making them easier to track, you can reload your ink blobs at any given time. As well as gaining the ability to set up ink areas, which allow him to teleport to that location, but the power will enter cooldown for 120 seconds, he has a total of ten ink areas at the beginning of the trial.

"There's nothing wrong with dreaming. Wishing for the impossible is just human nature. That's how I got started. Just a pencil and a dream. We all want everything without even having to lift a finger. They say you just have to believe.

Belief can make you succeed.

Belief can make you rich.

Belief can make you powerful.

Why with enough belief, you can cheat death itself.

Now that... is a beautiful, and positively silly thought." -Joey Drew.

The Perks:

The creators lied to us: You hate it when people tell you empty promises, so you do your best to get what you want: Everytime you hook a survivor, you get 1 token, up to a maximum of 3/4/5. Each token increases your pick up, dropping, vaulting, pallet, and generator breaking speed by 2/3/3%.

"Joey lied to us." -Henry's message.

Can't be erased: You remember each and everyone of them, and you hate every second of it. Each time you down a survivor, the next generator you break will lose 10/15/20% of it's progress.

"He will set us free." -Sammy Lawrence.

Build our machine: You thrive to feed the machine, and you will do what it takes to feed it. Once per trial, you can take one fully completed generator, and take it back down to 75/50/0%.

"Build up our machine, you die tonight!"
